

BUON GIORNO ITALIAN FOODS, INC.
Suggested Reporter's Questions

---

1. NewsCenter 16 understands that one of the Bon Giorno Italian soups is being recalled from supermarkets. Can you tell us what happened and why?
2. How serious is the contamination?
3. How can consumers identify the cans which are being recalled?
4. Is your entire soup line being recalled? Why not?
5. What could have caused this terrible contamination to happen? Aren't a number of safeguards in place to prevent this sort of thing from happening?
6. Who will be responsible for the medical expenses incurred by those people who have been poisoned by your soups?
7. NewsCenter 16 has learned that your firm has retained a number of product liability lawyers. Do you think a lawsuit might arise from this incident?
8. What advice would you have for people with cans of Buon Giorno soup on their shelves at home?